

Inhuman Science

By <Billy> Eduard Albert Meier

IMPORTANT NOTICE:

This is an unofficial and unauthorized translation of a FIGU publication. This translation contains errors due to the insurmountable language differences between German and American-English.

CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 DEED

Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 4.0 International

Where not specified otherwise, this work is licensed under <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/deed.en> Noncommercial use is expressly permitted without further permission of the copyright holder

Inhuman Science

By: 'Billy' Eduard Albert Meier

Date: December 17th 2011

If we think back to the ancient times, we can see that the ancient Arabs and Greeks still taught and studied according to the ideal of pure and clean science, lived according to their findings and made these useful achievements available to the people for their benefit. However, if we look at the sciences in this way, we can unfortunately see a lot of evil and negative aspects in them very early on, because even in historical times scientists created weapons and lethal chemical, biological and other types of means that spread death, ruin and destruction among people and in nature. In modern times, at the latest with the First and Second World Wars, the sciences of various disciplines lost all humanity in their pursuit of deadly weapons of mass destruction and human experiments. The ideal of the positive aspects of science was trampled on and transformed into something criminal against humanity. But it continued and continues with many other wars, for example in Korea, Vietnam, Iraq and Afghanistan, as well as in many other countries around the world, where millions of people have been and continue to be tortured, massacred and murdered by scientifically developed weapons of mass destruction of all kinds, through wars and terror, uprisings and demonstrations, etc. And everything was and is accompanied by enormous devastation and destruction. And the fact that not only countless people, but also nature and its flora and fauna were and are fatally affected is just another fact in the evil game of degenerate scientific machinations. The catastrophic dropping of the atom bombs in Hiroshima and Nagasaki and the nuclear reactor disasters in Chernobyl and Fukushima alone caused enormous contamination of flora and fauna as well as among people and also cost many human lives. This is in addition to the fact that millions of people and the fauna and flora were irresponsibly contaminated by nuclear tests and earthmoving operations as well as radioactive projectiles. But the atrocities of the Nazi concentration camp doctors, such as Josef Mengele, who carried out torture-like, murderous and deadly "scientific" experiments and "research" on the prisoners, are also part of the destroyed ideal of the pure and clean sciences of earlier times. Consequently, there are many disciplines of science through which murderous, deadly, destructive, annihilating and human-torturing monstrosities are created, which bring misery, distress, death and destruction to people, the fauna and flora as well as to the world and its climate. In terms of medicine and medical devices, tremendous scientifically produced things are also being produced. which not only have a good and positive effect, but also a bad, evil, and negative effect. The fact that many people try to protect themselves from this by making living wills etc. is therefore not a miracle, because many sick people shy away from conventional medicine and prefer to turn to quacks who do more harm than good, or they go to a good and trusted family doctor who still shows them humanity, talks to them confidentially, holds their hand and offers help and advice. And such a trusted family doctor alleviates the suffering and illnesses of many sick people much more than dangerous quacks or the chemical substances developed by scientists, which often cause serious and extremely serious side effects.

Science and research must be free and must not be influenced by warmongering and all its degeneracies, and consequently no scientific or research work should be carried out that could be used to produce simple weapons and weapons of mass destruction. Effective limits must therefore be set in this regard, and this is more urgently needed today than ever before. Disasters caused by major accidents in nuclear power plants such as Chernobyl and Fukushima, which shook the world, should be warning enough. And the madmen in various countries who are building atomic bombs and radioactive munitions, cruise missiles and deadly long-range missiles, and other murderous weapons of mass destruction must also be stopped. But all of the arsenals of these countries must also be destroyed, regardless of which countries have such weapons in their warehouses, whether it is the USA, China, Russia, India, Pakistan, Israel, France, North Korea, or Iran. In this day and age, when all those who are greedy for power, all despots and dictators, as well as terrorists, are crazy about such arsenals of weapons, it is more urgent than ever that they are cleared out, destroyed and finally banned worldwide. However, it is not only all these weapons that bring death, destruction, and annihilation, because various sciences and research are also creating biological and chemical weapons of all kinds. Even electronics and genetic engineering as well as stem cell research are being used to produce weapons and to turn people into mindless androids and fighting and killing machines. And everything must go faster, higher, deadlier, more destructive, more devastating, and further, because goals can no longer be set, because everything is geared towards unstoppable progress, and thus one achieved goal must be trumped by the next.

Various sciences and their research have long since left all human values far behind because these are no longer what counts, but only the excesses in terms of the production of all kinds of deadly, destructive, and annihilating weapons, as well as all kinds of other means that serve the same purposes. So today it is not only power-obsessed governments, not only terrorists, despots and tyrants who disregard all human rights, as given in the "Universal Declaration of Human Rights" and adopted at the General Assembly of the United Nations on December 10, 1948. No, because in truth there are also many scientists from various sciences who, with their research and its results that disregard humanity and life, disregard all human rights and are responsible for the fact that hell is being unleashed on earth and against humanity through wars and terror. Therefore, the goal of earthly humanity must be to restore the values of humanity in the sciences and their research, and to stop scientific efforts to produce deadly weapons and other deadly means of all kinds that can cause misery, distress, suffering, pain, destruction, and annihilation and spread death. All existing generations must immediately learn what the creative-natural laws and recommendations tell people to do, in order to understand what must and should be done, what may and may not be done, and what is humanly possible to do in order to allow humanity to prevail in all earthly humanity and to create love, peace, freedom and harmony.

Original Source: <https://beam.figu.org/artikel/1673279370/unmenschliche-wissenschaft?page=0,0>

American-English Translator: Marilyn Kopczyk